WINE ENTHUSIAST

94pts. "It's not hard these days to get Cabernet to ripen to cherry-berry pie, currant and chocolaty richness. It is hard to squeeze that into a wonderfully crafted, classic structure, where the wine finishes perfectly dry. Bill Smith has accomplished all this in this wonderful, Bordeaux-esque wine. It's extraordinarily delicious, and with those Howell Mountain tannins, should develop for many years."

91pts. *"This has the crushed rock tannins of mountain-grown fruit, along with a zippy floral intensity that brightens its youthful flavors. The fruit is substantial with wild blueberry and darker black olive flavors, shortened for now by the warmth of the wine. But will lengthen out with bottle age, or with a grilled steak.
